

April 14 Questions

- 1) Saul's appreciation for David turned to _____ when the people began to applaud David's exploits. Under the influence of an _____ spirit, Saul tried twice to kill David with a spear. This teaches us that jealousy is a deadly sin—it is one step short of _____. God helped David escape, and he continued to serve Saul and defeat his enemies. This is an inspiring example of returning _____ for evil (cf. Rom 12:17–21), and it teaches us the importance of _____ those who mistreat us (cf. Matt 5:43–48). David's success and popularity did not make him _____; he remained humble, even when the entire nation praised him (1 Sam 18:16). His humility came from a deep sense of his _____ on God. He understood that he was prospering in all his ways because God was _____ him (1 Sam 18:14). When Saul sent men to David's house to kill him, David turned to God in _____ (Ps 59). He called out to God to _____ him and _____ his enemies, and he dealt with his feelings of frustration and fear by _____ himself of God's unfailing love and kindness. David's _____ in Psalm 59 shows us how to transform our emotions by _____ our minds on God and _____ to trust Him in spite of negative circumstances.
