- 1) The story of Jonah begins with him rebelling against God's will, but it's not until the end of the book that we learn what motivated him to flee to Tarshish. It was because he knew that God is _____ (Jon 4:2). Jonah was afraid the Assyrians would repent and God would _____ them. Thus it was no accident that God chose Jonah to be his messenger. God knew he _____ the Assyrians, and God deliberately called him in order to _____ his sinful attitude. This teaches us that God's call on our lives will bring us face to face with the true _____ of our hearts. If we find ourselves wanting to run away, it's a sure sign that our will is not _____ to God. The question God asked Jonah comes down the ages to us: 'Do you share my _____ for a lost and dying world?' (Jon 4:11). What will our answer be? Do we care enough about our neighbor to reach out in love and share the _____? The book of Amos begins with a series of _____ (prophetic statements of _____) against eight nations. The first six were the _____ neighbors of Judah and Israel, and Amos' listeners were probably nodding their heads in _____ as they heard of God's coming judgment. But then Amos spoke out against Israel and Judah—what a shock that must have been! He condemned the _____ right along with the idolatrous Moabites and Edomites! Amos' point is just as true today. Sin is _____, no matter who commits it, and _____ will be held accountable for their actions (cf. Rom 2:6–11).
